Hearing Notification: The City will notify all property owners, as well as business and residential tenants within the appropriate radius of your project site. Most projects require a 300-foot radius, while some require 1,000-foot based on the sensitivity of the project and the level of community input anticipated or required.

As with all other costs, you will be billed for staff time to research, create and label the required postcards. If the public hearing is delayed for an extended period of time after notices for your project have been mailed, you will be charged the cost to re-mail postcards.

Schedule Time Line: An application will be assigned to a staff planner within a week of a submittal. During that time, the application will be routed to city staff and outside agencies for their review and comment(s). Approximately two weeks after a project submittal, the project will be reviewed for general ordinance and policy compliance to determine whether application materials are complete and whether additional environmental studies are required.

An applicant meeting will be scheduled for approximately three weeks after the initial submittal. A letter will confirm the applicant meeting. The applicant and other project representatives should plan on attending this meeting. The meeting is with the project planner, who will discuss any issues identified by staff or outside agencies. The project planner will provide a letter identifying any issues with the project either at the meeting or within 30 days of the application submittal and will identify, if necessary additional material needed for the application.

Once the project planner deems an application complete, the application will be tentatively scheduled for a Planning Commission hearing date. The project planner will advise the applicant the necessary materials required for final submittal for the Planning Commission meeting. The final submittal is required 21 days before the hearing date to allow for review report preparation, and proper noticing. The applicant and other project representatives should plan on attending the Planning Commission hearing.

Appeals of Planning Commission Action: Appeals of Planning Commission action are considered by the City Council. Appeals to the City Council must be submitted within 10 calendar days of the Planning Commission action. Please consult the Appeal Application available at www.fremont.gov/permit for additional information.

City Council Hearing Date: Planning Commission recommendations for approval are considered by the City Council approximately four to six weeks after the Planning Commission hearing. A summary vacation may be approved by the City Council at a single hearing. A general vacation requires review and approval by the City Council at two separate hearings, three weeks apart.

Fees: An initial deposit is due at the time of application submittal. Please view the Planning Application, found at www.fremont.gov/permit, for the current deposit amounts. The actual charge will be based on staff time required to process the application. Progress billings will be invoiced during the review of the project if charges exceed the minimum deposit. A refund will be invoiced at the completion of the project review if excess funds have been paid.

Requirements described on this sheet are subject to change. If you need additional information or clarification to prepare your submittal please contact the staff person who furnished you this sheet for further assistance.
