1	Bodyweight equipment, rather than any of those "adjustable" machines shown above. Have tried those and was not impressed.	2/14/2019 9:42 PM
2	Bodyweight/calisthetic type equipmen such as rings, rails/bars that can be used for incline pushups or incline pull-ups/rows; these allow a person to vary the level of difficulty based on where the grab the bars. A great model is the National Fitness Campaign's "Fitness Court" in the Marina Green Park in SF. NationalFitnessCampaign.com provides a $30K matching grant for cities to build one of their Fitness Courts and they have online and mobile tutorials for people to learn to use the equipment and suggested workouts. 21st century stuff.	2/14/2019 10:05 AM
